Dear members and friends,

It was a very interesting talk by Steve Reynolds of MTM Automotive Components (www.mtmauto.com) on Tuesday night. Steve explained about the challenges of competing for business on the not-so-level international playing field, and how large corporations can enforce contracts which are heavily weighted in favour of the corporate behemoths. Despite the strong economic headwinds, MTM are kicking goals by designing, manufacturing and exporting millions of their auto gear shifters and door extenders, and they have even designed and produced a vehicle that they are selling into various market segments such as agriculture and defence, the Tomcar; a ripper little vehicle that will go just about anywhere, with just 2WD.

This week we are meeting at the Mens Shed in Chelsea, where we'll see their new shed that they've built to accommodate the extra demand for their services.

Hope to see you there.

All the best,

Simon.

HELPING HAND FOR HAMPTON ROTARY 'S GLOW FOR GOOD

Well done to Charmain Stothard, Kevin Harrison and Claire Button (and Charmain's sons Oliver and Emerson) who ran a very successful sausage sizzle at the recent Guinness Record breaking Glow For Good event run by the Rotary Club of Hampton. Nicely photobombed by Dick Gartner of Hampton RC.

Calling young artists, writers, graphic designers and photographers

Budding young writers, designers, artists and photographers are invited to join the team at Kingston Youth Services KYSS Magazine.

Creative young volunteers can obtain valuable experience and add to their portfolio while helping produce the quarterly magazine.

The KYSS Magazine – Kingston Youth Services Supplement – is developed for young people, by young people and targets those aged 12-25 in Kingston.

It would suit people who love writing and reporting on local events, enjoy graphic design or have artwork or photographs to submit.

Vacancies are available on the KYSS committee – where people attend fortnightly meetings and help plan and develop the magazine – or you can join as a contributor and submit work from home.

Applications close 5pm Friday 8 May. For more information see www.kyfs.org.au, phone 1300 369 436 or email youth.services@kingston.vic.gov.au
